About

As a hands-on IT leader, I am highly self-driven, adaptable, and quick to integrate into new environments. With 19+ years of IT experience—including 7+ years in team leadership, strategic planning, and innovation—I bring a practical, results-oriented approach. I have a strong track record in project and process management, and I've led continuous improvement through data-informed decision-making, resulting in measurable process enhancements and increased engineering productivity. This includes introducing GitHub Copilot, providing structured team training, and using KPI-driven adoption strategies to ensure sustained impact.

Software Technology Leader

September 25, 2020, Brandon managed Hanishkumar directly

Hanish consistently delivered solid, well thought-out implementations. He was careful to ensure that his code was maintainable and that others, especially those on remote teams, were able to understand what was done. He helped to guide other team members and always did so in a kind, polite but persistent manner which caused him to be well liked and respected.
